

NENAMESECK SPORTSMEN'S CLUB

CLUB RULES AMENDED 03-06-2019

ALL MASSACHUSETTS FIREARM LAWS MUST BE FOLLOWED.

New Members must attend a range safety class before using any range.

Violation of club rules may result in board action up-to and including expulsion.

All members are reminded that video surveillance cameras are in use for all club facilities. Any reported infractions of club rules or damage to club facilities will be followed up on and appropriate action will be taken.

Club RSO officers or Club officers have the right to ask any member to leave the Club property for any violation of the Club rules and not return until they appear before the Board of Directors.

GENERAL CLUB RULES:

There is absolutely no alcoholic beverages or marijuana allowed on Club property.

Members must have their membership card or badge in their possession at all times while on club property. You must present it when asked by any member or Club officer.

Eye and ear protection is mandatory on all indoor and outdoor ranges.

Treat all firearms as if they are loaded at all times.

Use the red range safety lights whenever anyone is going forward of the firing line. If you arrive at the range, the red lights are on, and no one is visible on the range, you are responsible to insure that no one is downrange. This is especially important on the outdoor rifle range when someone may be downrange on the 200 or 300 yard range.

Absolutely no handling or touching of uncased firearms or uncasing of firearms when the red range safety lights are on or if anyone is downrange. Handling of a firearm includes but is not limited to scope adjustments, relocating a firearm or anything supporting a firearm. If there is a problem with a firearm (i.e. magazine in, loaded firearm) do not touch the firearm to correct it while anyone is down range, wait until everyone returns behind the firing line and then correct the problem by informing the shooter. Shooters constantly ignoring/violating this rule should be reported to a club officer or RSO. This is a major safety infraction.

All firearms are to be uncased/unholstered at the firing line and NOT behind the line. Make sure that the muzzle is pointing downrange before uncasing a firearm.

Keep all firearms pointed straight downrange whenever they are uncased. Be aware of muzzle direction; this is especially important for short barreled firearms (handguns).

When moving a firearm on the outdoor ranges, the magazine must be removed and the bolt/slide locked back, or the cylinder must be open and empty and an ECI (Empty Chamber Indicator) must be inserted in the chamber. The safe muzzle direction for moving the firearm is straight up in the air after the ECI is inserted.

Keep fingers outside of the trigger guard until you are ready to shoot and aimed on target.

An ECI (Empty Chamber Indicator) should be inserted in the chamber of all firearms whenever they are benched, before being moved or before proceeding downrange. The firearm must be pointed straight downrange, the magazine must be removed and the bolt/slide locked back, or the cylinder must be open and empty. Satisfactory ECI's may be commercial versions, lengths of weed-wacker cord, larger size ty-wraps, or any device that insures to an observer that the firearm chamber is empty. Note that the firearm safety device/lever is not mentioned; this is a mechanical device which can fail and should not/cannot be relied on and is not to be considered to be a satisfactory replacement for any part of above procedure.

Before going forward of the firing line, call for a 'cease fire', insure that the red range lights are on, no one is handling any firearms, ECI's are inserted, magazines out, cylinders open. Check your neighbors left and right. Remember to turn off the red range lights after everyone has returned from being forward of the firing line. Note: the outdoor rifle and pistol ranges are considered to be 2 separate ranges and operate separate from each other.

If you are alone on the outside rifle range, do not leave your firearm unattended when going downrange. Keep your firearm with you or locked in your vehicle. Remember you may be 100, 200 or 300 yards downrange and away from your firearm.

The 1-1-1 rule: One licensed (LTC or FID) adult member to one unlicensed adult or minor with only one uncased firearm between them. This rule applies to unlicensed family members (family membership), unlicensed guests of members and any unlicensed minors using the club facilities. The adult licensed member is to directly supervise all shooting activity and is responsible to insure all activity is conducted in a safe manner and in accordance with club rules.

A guest may be brought a maximum of one time per calendar year before the guest is required to join the club. Only one guest is allowed per membership (single or family) per visit. The 1-1-1 rule applies.

Guest memberships are available, contact the membership chairperson for more info/cost.

No one under 18 years of age are to use any firearms or be on club property unless accompanied by properly licensed adult. (See rules below for anyone under 18)

Shooters are required to clean up after themselves. This includes picking up all shells, trash, and the removal of all targets from the target holders. (Inside and outside ranges). Brass goes into the collection buckets. Aluminum or steel cases, and shotgun hulls are considered to be trash and placed in the trash barrels. Members not cleaning up after themselves are subject to suspension of their range privileges.

THINGS TO BE AWARE OF:

Misfires: If you pull the trigger and the primer is struck but the round doesn't discharge (aka go bang), this is know as a misfire. This may be due to a light primer strike, a defective primer, old ammunition. Sometimes the round may be reloaded into the firearm to fire on the second attempt. Misfires should be cleared from the firearm without actually touching/handling the round since it may be a hangfire. Allow to drop to the ground.

Hangfire: This is a round which fails to fire at the time the primer is struck but discharges 2 to 10 seconds (or longer) later. Therefore if the round is left in the firearm, the firearm should continue to be pointed downrange. If an attempt is made to clear the round, do not handle it and allow it to drop to the ground. If the round discharges outside of the firearm, generally the case will split without giving the bullet itself any power. A hangfire is like a slow burning sputtering fuse, it just take a while to achieve the end result.

Squib load: When the round discharges but without the normal report (a fizzling sound rather than the expected bang) do NOT fire the firearm again until you check for an obstructed barrel. The light report could mean that the bullet had enough power to leave the case but not enough power to clear the barrel. The can be caused by a bullet with only a primer (no powder) or corroded or corrupted powder. The barrel can be checked using a cleaning rod, range rod or by dropping an object such as a spent 22 rimfire case down the barrel. If the barrel is obstructed, contact a competent individual to clear the barrel.
